Brand values

Empowerment

Real-work experience empowers learners with the employable skills, confidence, career clarity, and network to pursue their calling and thrive in their careers. We are not the primary hero on the quest to end underemployment, but the platform empowering employers and educators to equip students for industry; and inspiring students to empower themselves by making the most of these golden opportunities.

Inclusivity

Every learner, no matter their background, should have access to the tools (experience and employable skills) that will equip them to enter the workforce. The online nature of the Riipen platform ensures that learners of all geography are included. We believe that every learner, no matter their age or experience level, can positively impact business objectives. We believe that any employer, no matter their type or size, can add value to a student's life and work experience.

Ingenuity

Our ingenuity is inspired by a drive to solve problems. We are pioneers looking for meaningful ways to bridge the gap between higher education and industry. On a product level, we innovate to make work-integrated learning simple, accessible, streamlined, and scalable. On a brand level, we want to revolutionize higher education as thought leaders – inspiring others to take action.

Purpose

Not only is our own purpose top of mind in everything we do, but we like to inspire and nurture a sense of purpose in others too. For learners, real-work experience isn't just a practical course – they can add real value to the business objectives and it's a springboard to a thriving career. Employers can play a part in shaping the future of business. Educators have a purposeful role to play in preparing learners for the world and the future of work.

Learning

Work-integrated learning is more than a curriculum add-on to us: We understand its power to transform lives and change the world. We are outcomes-driven and committed to improving learner engagement and career-readiness. We have the utmost respect for the academic industry and seek to partner with them to give them the tools they need to empower learners.

Community

The nature of the platform fosters a sense of community. We create connections and encourage meaningful interactions. If you join Riipen, you are part of something greater – our vision. We collaborate with like-minded people who value equality, accessibility, and growth; and who believe that work-integrated learning can result in the betterment of society.
